6 Emothi was not at his best last time, but before that he had shown his nice capacity, including being locked in in a STL-final second last. He uses to put in good efforts after a layoff and also likes the long distance. 7 Dear Wise As is good for this class and the form considerably better than the results show. Has won in two out of three starts over the distance. 8 Nick Nack Newport has looked in good shape in a couple of build-up races. 3 Västerbo Euro has strength as his main weapon.

8 Mijanou is strong and she has started her career promisingly and become more speedy too. Tough lane of course, but she should be considered early anyway here. 9 Legacy Of Sound was heavily backed last time but was not at her very best. She was really good second last when she won very easily. Tighter starts now. 4 Bluebeat has started promisingly but not lived up to the expectations yet according to the trainer. 1 Farrokh Bulsara did not trot well last time and but is better now.

5 Gunvald has shown good form for a long time and second last put he sprinted to a V75 victory at Örebro. He has been scratch after last time, but we think he is still in good shape. 1 Boomtown won comfortably from the lead last time. Nice task here and could reach the front again. Leads this for a long time. 11 Delon Grif owns great capacity but is not reliable. Early choice without a mistake. 14 Caravaggio Jet is in top form and certainly well prepared.

1 Melba Westwood has made it to two bigger finals this year and earned as much money as the other competitors combined. The opposition has been very tough all year and now she finally gets to step down in class. Despite some question marks, she should have top chance here. 6 Gosa Gosing has competed against tough opponents and put in good efforts when avoiding a mistake. However, could get a tough journey from here. 5 Panthere D'Inverne has avoided a mistake at the end and then showed a wonderful development. 3 Get Gas has shown top form and been improved at the end.
