RANK

7 Iconic has shown good strength in the past and half of his six career victories have come over the long distance. 12 Muscle Crown owns good capacity for this class. The gallop most recently came under attack when he run into the front sulky. This distance is an advantage. 10 Vancouver High has been matched in tough company most of the year and steps down in class now. 9 Belgique returns after a layoff, which he previously has handled with a brilliant result.

RANK

2 Ahorsewithnoname has shown good form of late but met tough opponents in the last V75 race. Perfect conditions again and with a good chance for the lead it must be a top chance to lead all around. 4 Thunderfrmdownunder comes from a victory against easier opponents, but showed good capacity early in his career. 8 Duncan Laurence has been heavily backed every time, but hasn't shown that much on Swedish soil. 5 Princess CS beat good horses in her last win. Now with a run under her belt after a long layoff.

RANK

5 Edienne found the lead but gave it away after half a lap. Won easily then when the leader galloped into the home stretch. She has missed the podium on one occasion in ten starts and is fast from the start. In the lead Flemming Jensen can choose the tactical plan. 1 Bravo Amore comes from a mediocre effort despite a new record. Back in an easier company now, similar to the victories. 2 Wingsuit won with energy left in the debut for a new trainer last time and should be even better now. 11 Teton AboveTheHill put in a strong debut for this trainer after a long layoff last time.

2 Windmill Jam has been a talk of the town since his debut. Has not always lived up to that but seems to be on the way up now. In top form and ideally drawn, he is our winner. 8 Chanel Trio has been delivering strongly in the V75 lately but has been a scratch after the last one. Has good capacity and speed and fights for victory with the right trip. 5 Fönix Vang has shown nice times, but not at all the same form as when he lined up the victories last year. 6 Dublin Fi is better than ever now.

5 Fireball Bi put in a nice Swedish debut together with Jepson. Looked nice and has been the favorite after that in two starts. From a perfect number he should reach a nice position. Our winner. 3 Light The Lamp has really found top form and took the first win of his career in a big way last time. 2 Broker Artist comes with two straight victories in somewhat easier company, but should still be considered early with the right trip. 4 Devs D.Rex is capable but has got a pause.

2 Noa Transs R galloped directly from lane two in the circular start last time. She has shown good capacity for the class and should avoid a mistake with this starting method. Nice number behind the gate and early contender here. 11 Runs In The Family comes from an amateur race but didn't convince. Driven by Korfitsen again and fast enough to pass all opponents here. 8 Sahara Silvio has put in many good efforts and will be in the battle for victory with the smallest of luck. 1 Eketorps Nellie got locked in last time with energy left.
